

Exploration Syndicate: Diagram of a Plant Science Award Task

Science Award Homework due: Friday 14th May 2010

Name: _____

The brief: Draw a detailed diagram of a plant. Label at least 6 parts of it and describe how each part helps sustain life.

On your homework grid sheet you could have this signed off by your parent in the areas of:

- Use a computer
- Design and layout
- Reading
- Being read to
- Project/Assignment

	Above expectation	Meets expectations	Below expectations
A hand drawn diagram of a plant
At least 6 parts are labelled
Each labelled part has an explanation for how it helps sustain the life of the plant
Work is in your own words, and has been proofread for sense; all sentences are grammatically correct
Neat handwriting and lettering or good choice of font style and size, use of bold type etc
Careful use of colour and layout

Success Criteria:
 (Paste this onto the back of your diagram or on the next page in your homework book)
 You need to put a tick into the appropriate box below; your teacher will also make his/her own assessment.

Proofreading – spelling and punctuation
A bibliography of ALL your resources. This includes the title, author, publisher and date and full web addresses
You have ticked the appropriate success criteria boxes, and pasted the sc into your homework book or onto the back of your assignment
Your evaluation covers your effort, resources, time management, presentation and the quality of your work, including possible improvements

Your evaluation of your work:

Teacher to circle:

Pass / Fail: You will need to improve/repeat this assignment